

BPA Energy Efficiency Weekly Announcement, January 26, 2017

Events

Next Low Income Energy Efficiency Workgroup Meeting is January 31 - Draft Agenda posted

Mark your calendar for the next workgroup meeting, January 31, 10:00 a.m. to 1:00 p.m. in Seattle and via WebEx. All information about the workgroup and the draft agenda for the meeting can be found here. Focus for this meeting will be a presentation by Seattle City Light of what they have learned and what they are planning as well as a presentation of scenarios of repair costs versus installation costs and Q&A with an EER and a COTR. Please join us.

Join the monthly Momentum Savings call on February 1 -

Please join us on February 1st for the BPA Market Research team's monthly call, where we will be sharing our 2017 research plans, as well as an update on EISA given the changing political landscape. You will also get a complete round up of the latest residential and non-residential lighting momentum savings, as well as hear a presentation on how we can tactically shift markets by asking, 'What are we really trying to do here?'

We look forward to having you on the call!

For more information, visit us at <https://www.bpa.gov/EE/Utility/research-archive/Pages/momentum-savings-monthly-calls.aspx>

Brownbag: Emerging Technology Field Tests for Commercial Applications -

Join BPA's E3T team and Commercial Programs group on February 8 as they share our current ET Field Test opportunities. This exciting program enables E3T to answer research questions and gather data to improve and develop new energy efficiency measures...More

General

Join Conduit's TBT Photo Contest! -

A lot has changed in the energy efficiency world—even from just a few years ago. We're asking you for your best "Throwback Thursday" pics! Have an old photo? Or want to celebrate a big accomplishment that happened over the past year? We want to see them! Post your TBT photos here.